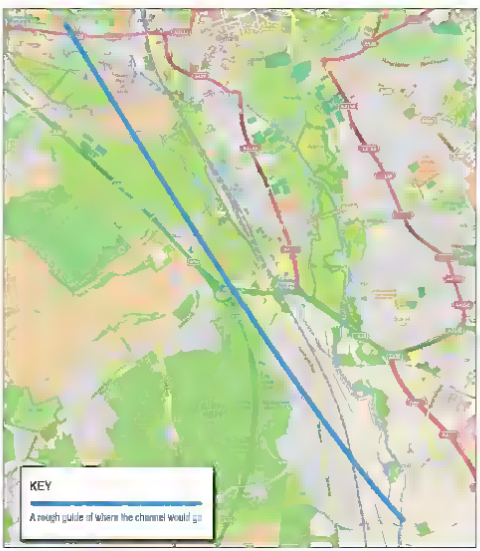
£120M FLOOD RIVER PLANS ON DISPLAY



PLANS for a £120million flood relief channel to stop Oxford flooding are on display to residents this week

The first of five Environment Agency (EA) consultations in Kennington on Tuesday gave residents a chance to question experts and have their say on the plans

Named by the EA as the Oxford Flood Alleviation Scheme, it would see a channel built just west of Oxford from Botley Road through the Western flood plains east of the A34 by Kennington to join The Thames at the lock in Sandford-on-Thames

Building work could start by 2018

The channel is expected to prevent major flooding in Oxford.

The city was badly hit in 2003 2007 2012 and 2014 during which Botley Road and Abingdon Road had to be temporarily shut and more than 100 homes were flooded.

Residents at Kennington Village Hall in Kennington Road were sceptical the plans could stop flooding Kennington resident Wren Wooster 51, said "The problem with the proposals it doesn't address the real cause which is the speed of the water that is coming in to Oxford.

The water coming in is uncontrolled and with the current plan for the channel, I fear that Kennington is still at risk of flooding

London council looks to buy Vale mansion

A LONDON borough council has put in a bid on a £1.25million property in Kennington to give free holidays to "families at risk of breakdown".

Hackney District Council applied to Vale of White Horse District Council to change the function of the Bagley Hill Road property on May 7.

Spokesperson Nicola Quinn said: Hackney Council recently received funding from the Department for Education Innovation Fund to run a programme to help children and families who would benefit from some structured time away from home.

"It is a voluntary programme with parents and where appropriate foster carers joining the children and taking part in a programme of learning and support.

"It is primarily aimed at children in care or families at risk of breakdown, with a maximum of three families staying for short periods.

"We think this location is ideal as it will give the families involved the opportunity to spend time together away from their homes in a tranquil location with plenty of space that is still a commutable distance from London."

The Department for Education has given £2m to the local authority from its Innovation Fund for providing the service.

Dunn and Matthew Batstone of Bagley Wood Road have submitted their comments to the Vale, which read: "The loss of one large family unit of resident dual occupation is contrary to Vale of White Horse's Local Plan requirements to increase the supply of housing in the council's area.

"Neighbouring properties will suffer a loss of privacy and amenity due to the number of transient occupants."

However Jo Lees posted on a Kennington community Facebook group which said: "We need to invest more in giving families tools to use to strengthen their bonds rather than vilify them when something goes wrong."

District councillor for Kennington and Radley Edward Blagrove declined to comment on the application.

No decision has yet been made by the district council, but they have given a target date for a decision as July 2.

Baby badger rescued from swimming pool

A BABY badger thought to be only a few months old was rescued from a six foot deep swimming pool by RSPCA inspectors after becoming trapped.

The young badger was spotted curled up sleeping at the bottom of the pool in Tumbledown near Cumnor on June 13.

There were no steps or other way into the pool, so the badger is believed to have fallen in.

It is not known how long he had been there but it is thought it was at least one night.

The RSPCA were called and were able to lift him out using a cage attached to a hook.

RSPCA inspector Jaimie Godfrey who attended the scene said: "Unfortunately for this little badger the pool had no water in it which meant he had quite some fall.

"There was no way that he could have made his way out of walls that steep without help.

"It was a pretty delicate operation but I managed to very carefully lower the cage over him as he slept covered with a towel and slipped a plastic box beneath."

She continued: "It did make things easier that he was drowsy, as it was daytime and he may very likely have been scrabbling to escape for most of the night."

The 44 year-old man from Didcot was arrested following allegations of public indecency.

The line, which comes into use from October 26, will see two new fast trains per hour throughout the day between Oxford and London, with a journey time of under an hour.

There will be three departures from Oxford Parkway to London Marylebone before 7am and a key commuter train at 7.24am will take 56 minutes stopping once at Bicester Village station.

The timetable is available for people to view on the website chilternrailways.co.uk/oxford-timetable.

Woman raped

DEDDINGTON A woman was raped in a churchyard in Deddington on Sunday after the end of the village's festival.

The 25-year old was found by a passer by at St Peter and Paul Church in Church Street at 00.20am.

It was the last night of the 10-day Deddington Festival.

The village between Bicester and Banbury hosted a family fun day and live music show called Deddington Rocks on Saturday from 2pm until 11pm in Market Square.

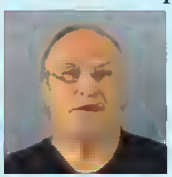
'Monster' raped children



• Monster Clifford Godden, 72, of Blackditch.

A MAN has been labelled a 'monster' by police after he was sentenced to 18 years in jail for a string of sexual offences against children including rape.

Clifford Godden, 72, of Blackditch, Stanton Harcourt, near Witney was found guilty by a unanimous jury of twenty counts of sexual offences at Oxford Crown Court yesterday following a seven day trial.

Investigating officer Det Con Kelly Gilbert of the Child Abuse Investigation Unit, said: "Thankfully this monster is behind bars where he belongs. The victims are genuine and honest people who desperately wanted to be free of the feelings of shame and fear this man put them through.

Godden was convicted of four counts of rape, eleven counts of indecent assault, one count of attempted rape, and four counts of sexual intercourse with a girl under 13.

Godden was arrested by Thames Valley Police on May 6 last year and was charged with the offences on August 21 last year.

£40m plans for hundreds of Oxford student rooms

PLANS to bring nearly 350 rooms for student accommodation to Oxford have been welcomed to free up affordable housing for families

University of Oxford's Merton College and accommodation developer McLaren Property have submitted a joint planning application to Oxford City Council to build a £40m housing complex next to student rooms at St Catherine's College off Manor Place in Oxford.

The plans include three pavilion buildings housing the rooms based around a central single level building.

Construction could start as soon as planning permission is granted which could take between three to six months to open in time for September 2017.

City councillor and vice-chair of Oxford City Council's west area planning committee Michael Gotch is happy with the plans and believes it would help get more families into affordable housing with more students being able to find accommodation in the city.

Cllr Gotch said "The more students that are out of family housing so families can get into affordable housing, the better."

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan.campbell@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

"I welcome every opportunity for Oxford to build more housing and this proposal can help increase the number of families in affordable housing."

The application comes after consultation with the city council and public meetings on the proposals were held in January last year where students were asked for their thoughts on the proposals.

John Cloag, estates bursar at Merton College, said: "The team at McLaren Property has worked diligently with us to bring forward a design which helps to meet the overall need for student accommodation in Oxford."

The proposals outline 349 en-suite study rooms in addition to common areas, laundry rooms, cycle parking and outdoor amenity space.

New additions to the proposal also include on-site catering, a refectory and amphitheatre with surrounding courtyard gardens.

The site is also surrounded by listed buildings including the Grade I listed St Catherine's College.

Stuart Black, development director at McLaren Property, said: "The scheme has involved to ensure that the much needed accommodation responds positively to the architectural context and rich history of this part of Oxford."

The site was previously identified in the city council's adopted Sites and Housing Plan as an area to accommodate students from both the University of Oxford and Oxford Brookes University.

Local residents, community and heritage groups are now invited to comment on the submitted planning application.

Residents view flood prevention project

Mr Wooster added "I'm here because I want to give my views on the project and it's good that the public have been given their chance to say something because it looks like the EA really need it."

The other meetings will take place today at Abingdon Guildhall in Abbey Close, on Friday at West Oxford Community Centre in Botley Road, next Tuesday at Oxford Town Hall in St Aldate's and next Friday at South Oxford Community Centre in Lake Street.

So far £100m has been raised to fund the project by the government, Oxfordshire County Council, Thames Regional Flood and Coastal Committee and the Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership.

Another £28m needs to be raised.

Feasibility studies are being carried out to test how effective the plan would be.

A report is to be finished by the end of 2015 before the project can be signed off by the government's treasury.

Kennington resident Alan Rhymes, 64, said: "I absolutely love that we've been given the chance to speak about a topic that affects all of the surrounding areas, not just Oxford.

"Despite being unpressed with what I see, I personally don't think it will resolve the issues, though it could make a change."

Peter Collins, the Environment Agency's flood risk management team leader, said: "We want to develop our relationship with the local people and through this consultation period we want to ask people what they feel are the key areas that we need to take a look at."

Peter Rawcliffe, of the Oxford Flood Alliance, said: "Businesses are looking at Oxford and contemplating the flood risk that the city now has a reputation for.

"We need to work with people to fix this horrendous problem we have in Oxford with flooding."

Celebrating culture with the Oxford Arts Festival

LAST Saturday saw the opening of the Oxford Arts Festival, with a range of musical acts and performers.

The festival has been organised by Magdalen College School and will see a range of cultural and artistic activities throughout the city during the next two weeks.

Celebrations took place in Bonn Square with a performance from Cherwell Brass Band as well as dancing, face painting and balloon modelling.

Saturday will also offer a range of activities including a talk from activist Shami Chakrabarti.

The human rights campaigner and the director of the organisation Liberty will be giving a talk on her new book 'On Liberty' at the Festival Marquee on the Magdalen College School campus at 5pm.

She said: "The arts have always been instrumental in delivering new ideas to new audiences and the festival excels in making complex causes accessible.

"It is a privilege to highlight our fundamental rights and freedoms at such a wonderful cultural celebration."

There will also be a medieval day at Oxford Castle on Saturday that hopes to explore the city's cultural routes with battle re-enactments from the Medieval Siege Society or visitors can try their hand at stonemasonry or woodcarving.

Special guest Roger Hunt the co-author of Old House Eco Handbook, will also be staging a workshop.

He said: "Helping people understand and appreciate heritage through events like Oxford's Medieval Day is vital at a time when we need to ensure our old buildings are sustainable for the future.

"I'm keen to explain ways that homes can be made more energy efficient without losing the character and history that makes them special."

Tickets for the medieval day are £15 and the day will start at 10am.

This will be the seventh Oxford Arts Festival and will see a number of local sites opening their doors including the Oxford Playhouse, the Ashmolean Museum and Christ Church Picture Gallery.

The festival will run until July 5 and will conclude with the Cowley Road Festival.

A quarter of adults fear for local children

MORE than a quarter of Oxford adults are concerned for the safety of a child in their neighbourhood, according to a new study.

A survey conducted by charity Action for Children found that 27 per cent of adults quizzed were very or quite worried about the welfare of a child living in their area.

Nationwide 2,500 adults and 2,500 children were surveyed, with 45 adult respondents and 50 child respondents from Oxford.

A quarter of the children and young people in Oxford surveyed said they were also worried about whether or not another child was being looked after properly at home.

The study also found that 20 per cent of adults did not report these fears because of the risk of repercussions to the people involved or themselves if they were mistaken.

Operational director of children's services at Action for Children, Laurie Long, said: "Friends, neighbours, the owner of a local corner shop – these individuals within a community can be crucial to a child's safety by acting on their concerns.

"While our figures suggest an encouraging public awareness of child neglect it is a scandal that people simply don't know what to do when they think a child is not being cared for or where to go to raise the alarm that a child in their street may be in serious danger.

"Neglect is our biggest problem – the number one reason for child protection referrals to social services but there is no vision to tackle it."

He continued: "To protect more children we need a national strategy to command political and public support for change, only this commitment from the Government will truly change children's lives."

Oxfordshire treated to Northern Lights

By Alex Ballinger
alex.ballinger@trinitymirror.co.uk

• Mary Spicer's picture of the Northern Lights, as seen from Oxfordshire

PHOTOGRAPHERS and science enthusiasts were treated to a spectacular display of Aurora Borealis also known as the Northern Lights – in Oxfordshire this week.

The natural phenomenon is caused by the interaction between solar wind charged particles from the sun and our planet's atmosphere and magnetic field

Amateur astronomer and astrophotographer Mary Spicer 42 captured this photograph from Tackley North Oxfordshire along with a time lapse video between 12 40am and 2 10 am on Wednesday morning

She said "I've photographed aurora five times from Oxfordshire in the past 18 months but this was the brightest display by far and was clearly visible to the naked eye

"Aurora was visible from around 12 45am once the cloud cleared and remained visible until we packed up at 2 30am

"We went out with our cameras and had to wait for 30 minutes for the cloud to clear but when it did the whole sky was dancing with aurora

"We could see a green glow low down but higher up we could see grey pillars which were moving across the sky and reaching really high

"We are used to seeing the brightly coloured aurora photos but the human eye doesn't see it in those colours

"To the naked eye mostly everything looks like a greyish green or greyish white

"It is only when you point the camera at it that you see those bright colours This is by far the best display I've seen

This aurora was caused by a sustained solar flare in the days prior which caused a major geomagnetic storm

Most auroras are usually visible much further north particularly in Greenland or Iceland

However larger and faster eruptions from the surface of the sun can mean auroras are visible much further south

Wednesday's aurora was visible as far south as Selsey West Sussex on the south coast

AuroraWatch UK issued an amber alert for last night which means aurora was likely to be visible from Scotland, northern England and Northern Ireland

£21k fine for illegal waste

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

TWO Oxfordshire men have been fined a total of £21 000 for illegally dumping 3 000 tonnes of illegal waste at a farm in Bampton

Frances Stewart Wood of Black Rourton the director and landowner of Elmwood Farm and Aylesbury Mushrooms (Farms) Ltd, and Stephen Radband of Fox Close, Bampton and director of SJ Radband Haulage were sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on June 18

The Environment Agency (EA) said Stewart Wood misdescribed 3 000 tonnes of controlled waste as a growing medium compost at his mushroom farm in order to avoid higher disposal fees

The waste crime enforcement officer for the Environment Agency Ian Finnegan said "We take a zero tolerance approach to companies who misdescribe their waste and deposit it illegally

"It puts the public and the environment at risk as well as costing the taxpayer and honest businesses

▪ The trommel fines waste that was dumped

"We are currently working with other enforcement agencies including Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs to stop this continuing illegal behaviour"

Stewart-Wood was fined £10 000 and his company Aylsebury Mushroom Farms Ltd £4 000

They were also ordered to pay a contribution of £2 000 each towards their own prosecution

Radband was punished as his haulage company failed in exercise due diligence in ensuring that the waste known as trommel fines was correctly described

He was fined £1 600 and ordered to pay £2 000 in costs

The EA discovered the illegal dumping on June 15 after receiving reports of a lorry thought to be containing waste entering a farmgate near Bampton.

Trommel fines is the name given to waste left over after a mechanical process that separates different types of waste at a processing facility

It often has high soil and plastic content and should be disposed of in a landfill designed to contain hazardous materials

The waste was deposited on Stewart Wood's farm but originally came from London based waste operator Powerday, who pleaded guilty to related offences and will be sentenced later this year

In April 2014 waste hauler Fred Sherwood and Sons pleaded guilty to failing in their duty of care and were fined £27 000 and ordered to pay £3 000 costs by Oxford Magistrates court

Home upgrades of £21m for city council tenants

COUNCIL tenants in Oxford are set to have their homes improved under a new £21.3m refurbishment scheme.

Oxford City Council approved the Oxford Standard for housing last December after consultations with tenants

Improvements will be made to 7,300 homes including to kitchens bathrooms, home security and the installation of solar panels in homes across the city

Scott Seamons the council's board member for housing and property services, said "Our new asset management strategy shows how committed we are to providing high quality homes for our tenants"

He added "We are raising the standard of housing in the city beyond the level recommended by the government

"The home repairs we propose to carry out tie in with the council's broader regeneration strategy that is already underway

"For instance we've committed more than £20m to the refurbishment of the 1970s tower blocks on our estates across the city

"We're also moving forward with the regeneration of Blackbird Leys centre along with the construction of more affordable housing on the estate."

The Oxford Standard exceeds the government recommended Decent Homes Standard and will see the council replace kitchens every 20 years and bathrooms every 25 years

Bathrooms will be fitted with baths showers and extractor fans while kitchens will be given modern appliances and a supply of both gas and electricity

The council will also install and maintain fencing and gates on alleys around homes

Public spaces on housing estates will also be given more parking and external lighting

The improvements have already started on an area by-area basis and tenants will be given information about when and where repairs will happen.

Morrisons in jeopardy

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@nqnewspapers.co.uk

PLANS for a Morrisons store in Wallingford are in jeopardy after the site went up for sale.

But town leaders are hoping that another supermarket chain will come forward to take over the plans to build a new store east of the Hithercroft industrial estate.

The supermarket chain confirmed today their proposals for a store in Lupton Road are 'under review'.

The site was listed for sale by property company Rapleys last week.

Wallingford town councillor Ros Lester said: "It's such a shame and what's worse is that Wallingford needs another supermarket with all these homes we're getting."

The town's only supermarket is Waitrose in St Martin's Street.

Morrisons had been granted planning permission for the store in July 2013, which was estimated to create 300 jobs.

But town leaders were left frustrated when building work was delayed.

The supermarket chain filed an appeal to SODC planning officers in October last year objecting to several conditions which it would have had to follow, including above average build standards.

But the appeal was later withdrawn.

SODC leader John Cotton argued the shop should be built to 'BREEAM's (Building Research Establishment Environmental Assessment Method) excellent standard, rather than 'very good' standards outline in the plans.

Cllr Lester added: "Well we can't blame that for the fact that the site's gone up for sale, there were so many things put in their way and we knew Morrisons were struggling, so it's no surprise it's all fell apart."

But Cllr Cotton said: "The conditions we added have absolutely nothing to do with this, we have had this feeling for some time that Morrisons were not going to commit.

"It's disappointing because Wallingford desperately needs a second supermarket, everybody needs a choice."

Morrisons spokesperson Sarah Atta said: "It's in review and selling the site is one of the options.

"We are looking at potential interest that we can generate and we do not know how long the review is set to last."

She also stated the review also includes a number of nationwide stores.

Morrisons last month managed to increase its sales for the first time in more than a year.

She added: "We appreciate the community is keen to see the site progress and we will be in a position to provide an update once we have concluded our review."

The store was set to have 316 parking spaces and a petrol station.

Cowley Road Carnival gearing up for 15th year

OXFORD's famous Cowley Road Carnival will be sponsored by MINI Plant Oxford for the tenth year in a row.

The renowned festival on July 5 is expecting 45,000 people to head to East Oxford in it's 15th year.

A parade will include around 700 dancers and performers while several stages host a variety of shows.

Frank Beckmann, managing director of MINI Plant Oxford said: "We are delighted to sponsor one of the most vibrant celebrations of Oxford's varied cultures.

"We hope people from all ages, backgrounds and cultures enjoy the fantastic day out."

Danielle Bettigelli, executive director of charity organisers Cowley Road Works, said: "we are absolutely delighted that the plant is continuing to support the festival for its 16th year."

Oxford Brookes University and The Patsy Wood Trust will also be sponsoring the event, though the details of their deals are being kept confidential.

Oxford City Council has contributed £30,000 towards the festivities with Cowley Road Works raising over £80,000 of its £120,000 target.

The carnival will kick off at Midday.

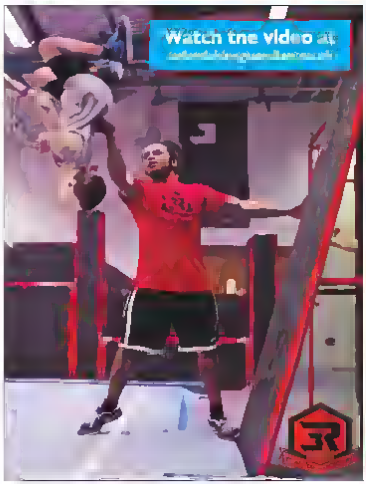
Free-running Spider-Max seals major Hollywood role



• Max Webb with his trainer Joe Scandrett

A SUPER-TALENTED free-running Oxford boy has landed himself a role in a major Hollywood blockbuster.

Max Webb, 12, from Headington, is shooting as a stunt double for the main character and another a role that requires him to wear a motion capture suit in an upcoming blockbuster on a set in London.

But he is under strict orders not to name the film.

The Cheney School pupil caught the eye of the director through Max's free running club 3Run, based in Basingstoke.

Max told the Guardian: "It's so fun and I can't believe that I'm doing it, they make the sets look so real.

"When I'm in the suit, I feel amazing. It's one of the highlights of my life so far and my friends are all really happy for me and keep asking me lots of questions about it."

Max's dad Vince, 49, said: "Max learned to climb before he learned to walk – he's always wanted to be a stuntman.

"I'm seriously proud of him.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• Max performing a handstand

I knew that he was different and if I'm honest I didn't think he would be doing films at his age but when I visit the set...it all just looks absolutely spectacular."

The young stuntman first discovered the sport 18 months ago from watching online videos and became obsessed with it.

After testing himself at street dance company Messy Jam based in Oxford, he was recommended for 3Run by dance teacher Elisha Pearl from Barton.

Elisha said: "I think it's awesome that he's doing so well. I had him as a young dancer and now he just has no fear about doing anything.

"We call him Spider-Max here because he's so fearless."

Vince believes Elisha's training is the reason why Max is where he is now and said: "She's been absolutely amazing for him. If it wasn't for her, he wouldn't be appearing in blockbusters, its full credit to her."

Since arriving at 3Run, Max has excelled in the sport and is now about to reach level four in his free running grading, the highest standard.

He trains two nights a week with 3Run before dedicating most of his Saturday to training with the club's elite stunt team.

Vince, who watches Max every single time he's in action, said that "he is an awe" of his son and that he's seen him jump between buildings.

• Max performs his signature double back flip

Max has set his heights on appearing in bigger Hollywood blockbuster franchises in the future and said: "My dream is to be in a Fast and Furious film, or in James Bond!"

Bicester water bill hikes investigation is launched

THAMES Water has launched an investigation after some residents in Bicester found their bills had more than quadrupled over the space of a year

Angry residents from Langford Village took to Facebook to discuss the unexpected rise in recent water bills

One of those was Stan Warner who posted the original comment on Facebook.

Her bill increased from £91 for six months to £357 for the same period.

The 50-year old said "We opened the bill on Sunday night and then made the original post on Facebook and it just spiralled from there.

"There were 281 comments last time I checked

"It doesn't sound like it's been resolved. I know a few people have been fobbed off."

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Cherwell district councillor for Bicester South Dan Sames was also hit by the price increase

He has since received a phone call from Thames Water's chief executive office to say they are aware of the issue and are launching a large-scale investigation.

Cllr Sames said, "These are grossly inflated prices but there are some cases where people have had their direct debits reduced there is no logic to it

I think Thames Water need to actually admit there is a problem

"We shouldn't be running around to solve their mistake."

Thames Water has now confirmed to the Guardian that a full investigation is underway

Peter Cogan Thames Water's director of customer operations said "We're very sorry to customers who have been affected by the meter reading problems

We supply nine million customers with water and read 300 000 meters a month – and can reassure all of them that situations like this are extremely unusual

"We're carrying out a thorough investigation and will get in touch with all of the customers affected within the next two weeks"

Spokesperson for Thames Water Sarah Sharpe added "We're in the middle of an investigation processing hundreds of customer records to make sure we've identified everyone with an issue

"We have a team dedicated to working on finding this out

We haven't extended our investigation yet but if we notice trends in other postcodes we will do the same thing as in Langford and investigate the meter readings."

She continued "We are going through all the meter readings from Langford in 2014 and checking customer accounts for contrasting levels of usage."

Councils seek help for its new homelessness strategy

RESIDENTS in parts of Oxfordshire are being asked for their opinions on how to deal with homelessness in the county

South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse district councils are holding a consultation to hear the suggestions of residents for tackling homelessness

Cabinet member for housing at South Oxfordshire District Council Elizabeth Gillespie said "We are very keen to put this homelessness strategy into place in order to prevent this unacceptable state

"We are all too aware of the devastation it can cause"

The consultation will last until July 14 and the councils are encouraging residents to let them know their priorities for confronting the issue.

The councils currently have a strategy to reduce homelessness for the next five years that includes increasing access to homes and expanding community outreach work

Over three years from 2011 to 2014 homelessness increased from 93 people seeking shelter to 108 and the cost of housing homeless people increased by £100 000

Their current strategy focuses on the affordability of housing in the county

Roger Cox cabinet member for housing at Vale of White Horse District Council added "The key to tackling homelessness is to focus on prevention

"There is much that we can do to support people threatened with homelessness and the sooner we know about the problems the more effective our assistance can be"

• Homelessness rose by 14 per cent from 2011 to 2014

In addition 17 per cent of children aged between 10 and 11 were found to be obese

Jobs boost for Botley Road supermarket

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A NEW Waitrose store in the Botley Road is set to create a hundred more jobs than previously anticipated when it opens this Autumn

Foundations for the new supermarket have been laid and the shop's steel frame is being built over the next few weeks

It is due to open this Autumn with 150 parking spaces

Up to 250 jobs have been created 90 more than in outline plans in November 2013

Greg Porter branch manager for the new store, said: "We're pleased to be in a position to create a significant number of new jobs for local people and to invest in their training and future careers

"We pride ourselves on ensuring our shops have a local identity and that starts with the staff we employ so we're really looking forward to building our team and becoming part of the local community

Those interested in a job can attend an open day at Oxford Town Hall on July 2

The chain is working with Oxford's Jobcentre Plus to give interview opportunities for 30 positions via a government scheme that offers pre job training work experience, and a guaranteed job interview

• An design for Waitrose on Botley Road

Oxford City Councillor for Osney Susanna Pressel said "I'm delighted to hear that more jobs will be created in this part of Oxford, especially since I believe Waitrose pays the living wage

Botley Road is one of the most notoriously heavily congested roads in Oxford

Cllr Pressel added "I just hope that most of these employees will walk or cycle to work since we obviously don't want any extra traffic in Botley Road

The available roles include full and part time positions and cover roles including sales assistants hospitality and delivery drivers

Plans for the supermarket, on the former derelict Halfords and MFI site, were granted in May last year

Vale of White Horse District Council previously opposed the plans saying it could threaten the plans for Botley's West Way shopping centre which were previously set to include a high street supermarket.

The West Way plans have since been withdrawn and are in the process of being revised.

The importance of vaccinating your pet

Sarah Packman
BVSc CertSAM
MRCVS, Larkmead Vets

VACCINATING your dog or cat will reduce the chance of them catching a number of serious and occasionally fatal infectious diseases Larkmead recommends that your pet receives a routine yearly health check and booster to help protect against the most common and the most serious diseases

Routine Dog Vaccinations

Your dog s yearly booster provides protection against Distemper virus Infectious hepatitis (Adenovirus) Parvovirus Para influenza virus and Leptospirosis We also recommend that you include Kennel Cough in their vaccination regime as it is a disease which although rarely life threatening has unpleasant symptoms and is becoming increasingly prevalent outside a kennel environment

Parvovirus is a common potentially fatal condition seen in dogs especially puppies and we have seen cases at Larkmead Vets in the past month It is spread via direct and indirect contact with other dogs causing bloody diarrhoea and vomiting

Leptospirosis is spread via the urine of rats dogs and other mammals It is a very common disease in unvaccinated dogs especially in South Oxfordshire It causes acute kidney and liver disease which without swift treatment is rapidly fatal

Kennel cough (canine infectious bronchitis) is the most common disease we see in dogs that can be prevented by vaccination Kennel cough is a very infectious disease and can affect any dog not just those who have been in kennels It is a debilitating condition and our dogs can become very unwell and cough for up to 6 weeks

Routine Cat Vaccinations

Your cat s routine yearly vaccination provides protection against Feline viral rhinotracheitis (Herpes virus) Calici virus Feline Panleucopenia virus and Feline Leukaemia virus

Calici causes respiratory symptoms which in severe cases may be fatal In cats that survive a good proportion develop a chronic condition where they can suffer with painful ulcers in the nasal passages and mouth for the rest of their life Feline Leukaemia virus is commonly seen in the stray cat population which predisposes a cat to develop cancers and is the 2nd most common cause of death in cats under 4 years old after car accidents

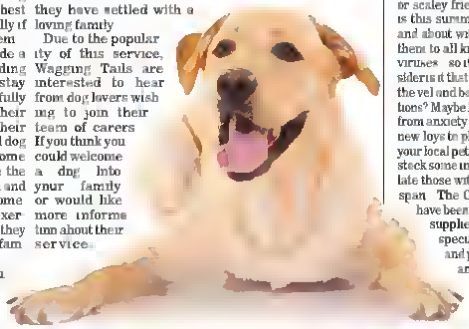
Dogs need a holiday too

BEING a nation renowned for our love of animals, it isn't surprising that many dog owners feel uncomfortable at the thought of going away and leaving their best friend behind, especially if kennels are not for them.

Wagging Tails provide a home from home boarding service where dogs stay with one of their carefully selected carers for their very own holiday. Their carers are experienced dog owners who are at home during the day to give the dogs the same warmth and comfort they get at home along with plenty of exercise and playtime, plus they will only look after one family's dogs at a time.

This service is particularly popular for rescue dogs that may have spent many months in kennels waiting for their new owners. To return to a similar environment for their holiday may cause them stress after they have settled with a loving family.

Due to the popularity of this service, Wagging Tails are interested to hear from dog lovers wishing to join their team of carers. If you think you could welcome a dog into your family or would like more information about their service, please visit www.waggingtailsuk.co.uk, or call Teresa on 07762 132329.



Don't forget your pets this Summer...

WITH the Summer months now here, we have holidays to enjoy and spending quality time with our nearest and dearest. One member of the family needs your attention too, so please remember your fluffy or scaley friend whoever he or she is this summer. When getting out and about with our pets we expose them to all kinds of nasty bugs and viruses, so it's a good time to consider is it that time again, time to call the vet and book the annual inoculations? Maybe Fido has been suffering from anxiety lately and needs some new toys to play with, in which case your local pet supplies shops usually stock some intelligent toys to stimulate those with the lowest retention span. The Oxfordshire Guardian have been speaking to many local suppliers from Vets to more specialist animal stockists and pet grooming facilities and they all have lots to offer the smallest or tallest creature this Summer.

Advertorial

"WHICH" report April 2014.

Independent hearing aid providers come out on top

According to a "WHICH" report carried out in March and April 2014 Independent hearing aid providers were rated as the most satisfactory compared to Boots, Amplifon, Specsavers and Hidden Hearing

An independent hearing aid audiologist is able to prescribe hearing aids from all manufacturers and find the exact system to suit your needs and budget However some of the high street hearing aid retailers are tied to specific manufacturers therefore giving a limited choice

Buying a hearing aid system is not just about the cost of the aid itself, you are purchasing an on-going package and so other things to consider are -

- Who is going to fit my hearing aids, and will I subsequently see the same person?
- What is the level of ongoing aftercare and support after your hearing aids have been fitted?
- Is the aftercare and support included in the price of the hearing aid system?
- What is the length of the manufacturers warranty?
- Can you trial the hearing system?
- What are the ongoing costs i e batteries and wax guards?

Beware, some companies offer free guides on hearing aids and follow these up with home visits They are often lead generation companies who operate in a sales based way They may sell your information on to other large hearing aid providers who will target you with mail and telephone calls to entice you to buy their hearing aid systems. The same can also be said for websites which appear to offer comparatively low priced hearing aids

If you are thinking of purchasing a hearing system it is important to compare the cost with a like for like hearing aid system and what aftercare is included If the aftercare is not included in the cost of the system then how much will it typically cost you over the life of your hearing aids

It can take time to fit and adjust a hearing system correctly so that it is working to maximise your hearing Without a professional, attentive fitting, and programming by an experienced audiologist and a reliable aftercare service in place it is possible that your hearing aids will end up in a drawer somewhere because they failed to give you the benefits that you expected.

The difference between a good and a bad hearing aid solution is not usually the aid itself, since most aids are made by a handful of manufacturers It's more to do with the professional fit and service given by the provider Hearing aids are only as good as the expertise of the dispensing audiologist.

Keith Donaghy is an independent hearing aid audiologist with over 28 years experience of prescribing hearing aid systems in the Oxfordshire area A consultation with him is FREE and he will happily help and advise you which, if necessary, hearing system will suit your lifestyle and budget the best All with no obligation, what have you got to lose?

Have you been advised that hearing aids would not be beneficial to you because your hearing loss is too severe?

With new technology most profound hearing losses can now be helped. Make an appointment to discuss your hearing with Keith Donaghy

14 Langdale Gate Witney OX28 6EY, 3 White Lion Walk Banbury OX16 5UD www.soundhearing.co.uk

Should I have my hearing checked? Keith Donaghy R H A D ; F S H A A has the answers.

Just like eyes and teeth it's recommended that hearing is checked once a year or certainly if someone thinks that their hearing is diminishing. A hearing tests and consultations are free at Keith Donaghy Hearingcare

How do I detect a change in my hearing?

It's difficult because the deterioration is often gradual so hearing needs to be checked regularly by a professional. Friends and relatives may tell you that you are not hearing properly or you may find that the television needs to be turned up for you to hear it.

When do I need to use a hearing aid?

If you have a significant loss in your hearing then a new digital hearing aid system will bring your hearing back to as near normal as is possible. There are many digital systems available on the market and generally speaking the more sophisticated the system the more expensive it is.

How much do hearing aids cost?

When investing in a hearing aid system you are not just purchasing hearing aids but also the aftercare package so it is important to consider what the standard of help and advice available when you start wearing your new hearing aids. At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare prices start from £960.00 for a pair of the latest digital technology hearing aids which includes the initial hearing test, fitting and consultation aftercare package. Because Keith Donaghy is a local independent we can often be more flexible and they can also offer interest free payment plans.

How long do hearing aids last?

All hearing aids come with a 2 year manufacturers guarantee. Providing that the hearing aids system is cleaned and serviced regularly it will last for 6 to 8 years. However many people change their system after 3 to 4 years usually because they want to use the latest technology available.

The Producers all-star cast

AN all star cast at the New Theatre Oxford will bring 'The Producers' to life next week

Jason Manford and Ross Noble will be flying the flags for British comedy in the musical based on Mel Brooks' award winning film.

They will be joined by American actors Cory English and David Bedella and theatre actress Tiffany Graves for the satirical comedy that will see New York producer Max Bialystock (Corey English) and Leo Bloom (Jason Manford) try and pull off one of the greatest scams Broadway has ever seen.

Despite being used to having the stage all to himself Jason Manford is looking forward to his visit to the George Street venue.

"I've not been onstage and felt unsure or not confident for over 15 years – I'm not used to being on a stage outside of my comfort zone," he said.

"Sometimes I spend so much time alone doing comedy that the audience is the first people I speak to all day but this is an absolute delight."

The movie, written and directed by Brooks in 1968, made it's Broadway debut in 2001 and it's British show three years later.

Now 11 years on, the musical is still going strong.

It is coming to the end of a four month tour across the UK.

The show's stop in Oxford will be the last in England before heading to Ireland on July 6.

By James Richings
jamesr@oxfordmagpaper.co.uk

David Bedella said "I don't think anyone can watch the show and not want to be a part of it – it's so much fun.

"So the chance to be involved in this show is a dream for me."

He added "I grew up in the US during the 1960s and Brooks was a big part of a group of writers that also included Sid Caesar and Carl Reiner who influenced my childhood.

Tiffany Graves – the shows only female performer added "Rehearsing this show with so many comedians means I've never been in a room with so many people sparring off each other before. They know exactly what they're all doing."

The show runs from June 29 to July 4 and start at 2.30pm for matinee or 7.30pm for the evening performance.

Tickets start from £17.50 to £46.50.

CANADIAN Folk Music Awards nominee Sarah Jane Scouten will make her way to The Bullingdon pub in Oxford on Canada Day next Wednesday July 1

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The singer songwriter was in the running for Traditional Singer of the Year and the Traditional Album of the Year at last year's ceremony

Her nominated album The Cape lost out to Coig's album 'Five' whilst the 'Traditional Singer of the Year' award went to Melisande

But Sarah Jane was not disheartened not to clinch the top spot

"It was an honour I'm so proud of The Cape and I'm glad it was so well received by my musical community" Sarah told the Guardian

"I thought 'traditional'? All right, I'll take it"

"Not one of those songs are traditional but I see where they were going with that."

Prepare to be moved when the Mercury nominated musician heads to Cowley Road.

"I love making people laugh more than anything, yet it's almost the same reaction when they get sad or even cry" she said.

"I don't want to be manipulative, but it's kind of my job to elicit feelings in others."

During her student days Sarah Jane spent a spell in Wales studying philosophy at at Cardiff University as part of a foreign exchange, and last year spent time travelling around Britain as part of a three piece band.

Now a UK regular she remembers her first trip to Britain with amusement

"I was 19 years old and was quaking in my boots," she said

"I had been waiting for the day to get on an airplane and see all the places where history took place but just before I got on the plane my brother said to me 'What if it's all just an elaborate backdrop? What if all the buildings are make believe and the UK is nothing but endless strip malls?

"I contemplated that possibility for 11 hours and I was possibly the most relieved person to ever lay eyes on Westminster Abbey"

Sarah Jane added that she is looking forward to her first Oxford show

"I was a big fan (and still am) of the Rob Lowe movie Oxford Blues when I was a kid and have a lot of fun running around the university" she said.

"Also my grandfather went to Oxford before switching to Cambridge for philosophy. It's dripping in history"

Coincidently Sarah's performance at The Bullingdon will be on Canada Day

It starts at 7pm and costs £11

Movie makes Oxford debut

A FEATURE film inspired by the 2001 Foot and Mouth crisis will make its UK cinematic debut at the Phoenix Picturehouse in Oxford on Tuesday before hitting screens across the country a day later.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylormcpapers.co.uk

Blood Cells, a road movie directed by Joseph Bulland and Luke Seomore, follows a man called Adam (Barry Ward) who is cast away from his family to some of the most eerie and forgotten parts of Great Britain.

"The 2001 Foot and Mouth epidemic was something that resonated with us, the outbreak started near where we grew up in Essex and those images were so powerful," Luke told the Guardian.

"The huge pyres, the charred outlines of thousands of dead cattle they had this hypnotic, biblical quality to them.

"The September 11 attacks historically overshadowed these events, but those images kept in our minds."

Joseph added: "We wanted to make a British road movie, which is usually a genre associated with American cinema and literature, but to use these perimeters and rules in a British context."

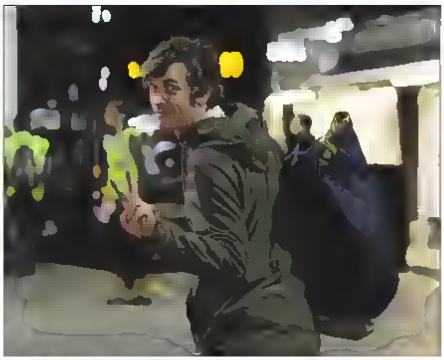
Critics of 'Blood Cells' have given the new film an average score of 7.4 out of 10 from 27 reviews on IMDb (Internet Movie Database), despite a budget of £200,000.

Luke added: "When we were in Napoli, a woman in the audience asked Joseph when the sequel will be released.

"She really wanted to know what happened to Adam after the film ended, but I think it's more interesting imagined in the audience's mind rather than actually telling that story."

Barry Ward, who plays the protagonist said: "This is hugely exciting.

• Barry Ward and directors Luke Seomore and Joseph Ball discuss the next take



• Barry Ward as Adam waits for the all clear before shooting a scene

We made the film for €200,000 (I believe) and for a movie of this size to get such attention and wide distribution is extremely rare, and testimony to the talent and dedication of all involved. We are all very proud."

The film has a rating of 15.

The screening starts at 6.15pm.

Tickets for the Walton Street venue cost £8 to £10.

Blood Cells will also be available on DVD in August.

While the new rear design features a gloss black section housing the twin exhaust pipes

Inside red stitching is used on the upholstery door panels gear lever and floor mats

And the door sill carries the GTi and Peugeot Sport signature and is finished in alu minium

The same material is used on the pedals foot rest and gear knob

With a wider track of 1 570mm at the front and 1 554mm at the rear, the 308 GTi has been engineered for strong grip

GTi 250 versions will come with Michelin Pilot Sport 3 tyres on Dia mant alloy wheels

Advertorial

Oxfordshire's friendliest family owned and run garage

P Bruno Car Repairs and independent business established in 1989 are still going strong despite many small garages closing over the last 25 years When Mr Pasquale Bruno was unfortunately made redundant from an Oxford based Plant Hire Company he saw an opportunity and seized it with both hands During the trying time of Black Monday back in October 1987 when the stock exchange collapsed and caused the Dow Jones industrial average to fall by 22 6% This was a worse collapse than back in 1929 Then followed the early 1990's recession which was officially the longest in British History since the Great Depression 60 years before

So Pas, as he is known dusted himself off and took a brave step to set up his own business and P Bruno Motor Repairs was born. He first began working from home then progressed and moved in 2004 to In Between Towes Road Cowley until 2006 The family run business is well known for being Oxfordshire's friendliest family owned garage. Even Pas s daughters have worked at the garage at one time or other, so it really has been a family affair

The business went from strength to strength and eventually outgrew the Cowley premises so then came the move to Bottom Yard Oakfield Industrial Estate Stanton Harcourt Road, Eynsham back in 2007 where the business remains to date

Pas's goal is to achieve every customer s complete satisfaction and to maintain your vehicle economically and to the highest standards The premises is within easy reach for Oxford, Witney Abingdon and Woodstock areas and they also pride themselves on offering a local collection and delivery service

Appointments can be arranged to fit in with customers busy schedules, which always helps having a garage do their level best to make things easier for you The workshop has full diagnostic and fault finding equipment and dedicated Asian vehicle diagnostic tools, so they can soon get to the bottom of any hidden problems The Company is part of GROUPAUTO UK & IRELAND and are fully compliant to their code of practice Other services available are Servicing & Repairs MOT Testing, Tyres Exhausts, Brakes, Steering Wheel Alignment, Suspension and Comprehensive Air Conditioning Services They also offer to their customers a garden machinery repair service

All the staff are trained to the highest standards and all hold a current City & Guilds certificate, they also attend regular courses to keep them up to date with current developments in the motor industry

Our current offers include servicing repairs and MOT testing All prices shown include parts, labour + VAT and we will not carry out any other work without first providing a quote. We will also advise you of any further work that your car may need in the future, allowing you to manage your personal budget successfully

For further details of all current offers visit the website on www pbruno co uk or call 01865 883413

Town secure 'superb' star goal machine

DIDCOT Town have moved to replace star scorer John Mills with the signing of former North Leigh star Conor McDonagh.

The 22-year-old has joined the club for the season after moving back to the Oxford area and spent last season at Ossett Town in North Yorkshire.

The Diddy moved to secure McDonagh after joint-manager Ian Concannon admitted that he used to 'tear them apart' when McDonagh was North Leigh's star goal scorer.

Concannon told the Guardian: "We are absolutely delighted to seal his capture. He is very strong, a great footballer and has had a superb footballing education."

McDonagh came through the Oxford United academy before heading to rivals Oxford City for a stint at Marsh Lane.

Concannon said: "He used to tear us apart when he was at North Leigh and make no mistake, this kid is a born goal scorer.

"I do believe that he could be the player to get us the goals that we need to push us higher up the table."

The news follows the announcement last week that John Mills is set to depart the club to a higher league which is a blow to The Diddy after he netted 57 goals for them last season to propel them to a seventh place finish.

McDonagh's capture follows the signings of Banbury United defender Marvin Martin and goalkeeper Leigh Bedwell.

Didcot Town begin their pre-season today with the club set to start the new season come August 8.

Their opening day opponent has not been announced but Concannon is feeling confident that that the club will be in a good position come game day.

He said: "We've all had a good break and we are going to hit the ground running, fully refreshed and ready to go.

"Me and (co-manager) Jamie are eager to get started we can't wait."

Concannon also confirmed more signings are in the offing.

Welsh sign on new duo

LONDON Welsh have continued to strengthen their side as they prepare for their return to the Championship with the signings of Montauban's Brendon Snyman and Saracen's Thretton Palamo.

South African Snyman, 30, who plays second row, has joined after his recent stint in the Pro D2 where he played a role in securing Montauban's tenth place finish.

American Palamo, 25, who plays centre, and has been capped for the USA Eagles five times will join The Exiles on a season long loan following the culmination of the Rugby World Cup.

London Welsh director of rugby Steve Lewis, said: "We are delighted to have secured the services of Brendon and Thretton.

"Brendon will add a real competitive edge to our forward pack and Threlton is an exciting talent that once he became available, I had no hesitation in pursuing this opportunity.

Snyman is 6ft 7in, weighs in at 122kg and can also play at number eight.

Palamo made his international debut as a 19 year-old in the 2007 Rugby World Cup and also represented Samoa at under 19 level.

Thousands sign up for half-marathon

MORE than 4,500 runners have already signed up take on the Vitality Oxford Half Marathon this October.

This year sees the runners take on a more city orientated route and race organisers GO2 have now confirmed that thousands are set to try out the new course.

GO2's head of marketing Jamie Warren said: "We are very excited that the runners appear to love the new route as much as we do, with a huge uptake of entries.

The organisers are urging for runners to sign up as soon as possible and Jamie believes that the race is not just for those that run regularly.

He added: "This race is for everyone - those looking to keep fit, those looking for a challenge to raise money for charity or simply to have as much fun as you can.

The new 13.1 mile route has been designed by taking into account the racing experience of both the runner and the spectators.

The organisers claim the race provides the perfect course profile for runners to find a good rhythm.

Any budding runners can sign up for the run at oxfordhalf.co.uk.

Tricky start for Welsh

LONDON Welsh returned to the training pitch for the start of pre-season on Monday as the fixtures for the Greene King IPA Championship were announced.

The Exiles will first take on Doncaster Knights before facing off against beaten play-off finalists Bristol.

The first round of fixtures are due to take place between September 4 and 6 and Rowland Phillips is eager to get some points on the board.

He said: "It's really good to be back, we haven't been away for too long and we've got a pretty tight group here to get started from day one.

"We have to be mentally physically and tactically prepared for what is going to be a really tough season.

"We've got to make sure that we've got the confidence and the belief that this is a winning team."

Phillips isn't reflecting on the Exiles' dismal Premiership campaign last season where they lost every single game and is more focused on the weeks ahead.

"We're not dwelling on it and there are things from last season that we've learnt that are positive - we learnt a lot of things about each other.

"We got the chance to see what people are like under pressure and we showed we were competitive up to a point."

The Exiles' head coach isn't deterred by his side's tough start and believes that his side can prosper in the tougher openers.

He added: "When you look at the teams in this league you can look at our first two games and know it'll be tricky.

"Doncaster and Bristol will be focused and ready and they'll see as an opportunity to take a scalp."

Phillips also believes that the squad is now fully formed for the new season and that the Welsh have the right players on board to succeed after recruiting 15 players for the new season.

He concluded: "Our recruitment's gone well - we've strengthened the areas we've needed to with a lot of quality but a good squad doesn't guarantee anything.

"We've got to work hard."

Chapman looks to nail first podium finish

OXFORD'S 15-year-old rapid youngster Matt Chapman has his eyes on securing a podium breakthrough when he takes to the Croft Circuit in North Yorkshire this weekend.

Chapman is currently in 11th position in the championship as it heads into the half-season break, and the Total Control Racing driver is eager to start his weekend on form.

It is the driver's second year in the Ginetta Junior Championship and after gaining a seventh place finish at Oulton Park earlier this month, Chapman is aiming to finally make it up on the podium.

The young driver said: "I can't wait for Croft, I really enjoy the track and we know we're quick there so the hope is that we can make a real push for our first podium.

"It's one of my favourite circuits as it has a good mix of fast sections and more technical corners."

Chapman also paid tribute to his team as he prepares to get back in the car for preevent testing tomorrow before rounds nine and 10 get away on the Sunday.

He added: "The guys have done a great job with the car, it's been fantastic to drive all year and we've just been a bit unlucky up to now. I'm sure come Sunday we will deliver."

Oxford head to showers early against Harefield

OXFORD'S basement battle with Harefield couldn't avoid the rain as the teams headed in for the showers early on Sunday after the match was abandoned in the Serious Cricket Home Counties Premier League.

A strong performance in front of the wickets established a foothold of 193-7 for the home side, despite the loss of Ryan Carters and Stewart Laudat in the first over.

Harefield's main danger man Chamu Chibhabha was lethal for the away side from the off as his delivery was caught by skipper Simon Macey off Carter's knock.

Chibhabha then left Oxford reeling as he took Laudat with his next delivery as Doug King got the catch.

Oxford's Sean Thornton and Vishane Perera got the ball rolling for Oxford though Harefield looked likely for the win with Oxford at 47-5.

Perera managed to hold firm and alongside Alex Morgan they managed to hold the sixth wicket securing 104 runs for Oxford.

Morgan fell to Chibhabha for 40 before Doug King's delivery led to Perera's departure aff a Jalpesh Vijay catch.

Following a quick cameo from Simon Oxford headed into hewt and made a solid start as Will Rooney's delivery led to Simon Macey being caught out.

Rooney's delivery then led to Vijay being caught from Carters and Chibhabha stepped in to hat just as the rain started pouring down.

Oxford remain bottom of the Division One table nine points off Harefield.

Lethal batting from Oxon in testing Dorset contest

OXFORDSHIRE'S opening tussle with Dorset proved productive for the home side with Lloyd Sabin making the difference with a fine performance on Sunday.

Sabin was a dynamic force for Oxon as he hit 70 for his side that took 345 from being all out.

Andy Harris and Chad Keegan were also on top form as they restricted Dorset to 50-2.

Hugo Darby and Michael Beard got the ball rolling for Oxon with the opening partnership stand of 101 before Luke Ryan and Johnny Carter added the gloss to proceedings hitting 57 and 50 runs respectively.

It wasn't until the 37th over that Oxfordshire finally lost a man as Darby was dismissed though Oxford's determination saw them but back with Sabin and Cater laying siege to the Dorset boundaries.

All-rounder Keegan was a huge presence on the field and smacked four boundaries within his first four minutes in front of the wickets.

By the time Oxon's Will Rooney went out for a duck with his side on 345, they were left with 18 overs to bowl and Dorset took to bat.

The away side weren't able to make a dent as they knocked 50 off the 18 overs, with Masor Khan striking 25 before he was bowled by Keegan in the 16th over.

Oxford suffer damaging Welsh blow

OXFORD RL's impressive home form was brought to an end as the North Wales Crusaders swept them aside in a pummelling 36-12 defeat at Iffley Road.

The away side came out of the blocks pumped and Jamie Dallimore got them started as he zigzagged through the Oxford defence to make it 6-0.

In the 28th minute, the Crusaders once again found their way through Oxford's back line and Craig White darted through a gap for a 12-0 score.

A simple dummy then put Dallimore through again, with Scott Turner converting all three tries for 18-0.

Oxford kept making rookie errors and the Crusaders Benjamin Jullien spotted a gap before half time and crossed after a 30-metre run.

The Crusaders just kept on going and it was no surprise when Rab Massam went over in the corner for a 30-0 scoreline to the visitors.

Oxford's Dean Mignacca sparked his team to life and the Blues looked to guide through the Crusaders' defence with quick passing and Vila Halafihi dived over on 61 minutes.

Nathan Kitson then added a second for the home side as he exploited the Crusaders defence to dive over from short range for a 30-12 score.

However the Crusaders weren't finished and Tommy Johnson sealed the win for the away team, converting his own try.

DOUBLE DELIGHT AS UNITED COMMITS TO YOUTH

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD United have reaffirmed their commitment to youth with the club's promising youngsters Sam Humphreys and Sam Long signing new deals with the club.

United's 19-year-old winger Humphreys who signed a one year deal yesterday is highly regarded by the club and made his first team debut for United in the final game of last season coming on in the final 10 minutes against Newport.

Bicester born centre back Long 20 made his Oxford debut back in 2013 against Accrington Stanley in April 2013 and featured 10 times for United last season, mainly as a right back.

Long also scored his first goal for United last season as he headed in a Callum O'Dowda corner in a 3-2 defeat to Southend United in January.

Humphreys, from Chipping Norton said, "I'm an Oxford boy and have been with the club since I was young, so it feels really good to sign a new contract here.

"I've been doing a lot of work in the off season and hopefully I'll be flying come pre-season."

Long said after signing a two year deal on Tuesday: "It was a straightforward decision. It's been a long summer trying to sort it out but I'm happy now.

"I'm going to come back and work as hard as I can to give myself the best possible chance to get in the starting line up.

"I can't wait to get back into pre-season."

United also to issued a statement last Friday that defender Chey Dunkley has admitted breaching the FA's anti doping regulations after testing positive for salbutamol after using an inhaler prescribed for his asthma.

However the FA agreed that Dunkley had no intentions to use the medicine to enhance his sporting performance.

The 23 year old was issued a warning and reprimand and will be subject to target testing for a period of two years.

The statement read. Chey suffers from asthma and was not aware of the restriction on salbutamol use. As a club we accept the FA's ruling."
